

Make your own Frames, Postcards, Puppets & Fancy Decorations

with Color Foam Board

Education play ideas

- Is a great learning toy that makes your Picasso's scribbles more than just art for art's sake. Your child makes handmade postcards to use as invitations or thank you notes, giving you the opportunity to reinforce their good manners.
- Taking turns is another type of social politeness, so encourage your child to share these cards and art supplies with a friend.
- Your preschooler can even use his/her other favorite art supplies to enhance the cards. So break out the markers, crayons, glitter and glue.
- Then sit down together and write a little note inside the cards, put it in an envelope and send it on its way. I'm sure grandma would love one!
- Your child can use the cards to set up his/her own post office with a cash register and a mailbag. Just beware of the neighborhood doggies!

Developmental skills

- Imagination
- Education
- Dexterity
- Social

